Nexus Planning is a specialist planning consultancy supporting clients across the UK with expert advice in navigating planning policy and legislation. With offices in Manchester, London, Birmingham, Reading, and Bristol, Nexus delivers innovative strategies across residential, commercial, and infrastructure projects, helping shape spaces and communities for the future.

Key Outcomes

-  A new domain and cloud servers, with reliable leased line connectivity across all sites
-  A secure MPLS network to support seamless collaboration
-  Microsoft Intune with Autopilot to simplify and speed up laptop deployment

The Challenge

When Nexus Planning separated from their former parent company, they faced the complex task of building a fully independent IT environment from scratch. With five offices, a growing user base, and a diverse range of software needs, they required more than just a standard IT setup—they needed a tailored, strategic approach that would allow them to grow with confidence.

The transition involved streamlining a slow laptop setup process and managing a last-minute office move without disrupting operations.

“razorblue has been an invaluable partner in helping us establish and manage our IT infrastructure. From transitioning us to a standalone environment to providing proactive support and solutions, they feel like an extended part of our team. The regular communication and strategic input we receive ensure our IT aligns with our business goals. With razorblue, we feel confident that our IT systems are in safe hands, allowing us to focus on delivering for our clients.

razorblue Approach

We wanted to ensure a smooth transition for Nexus Planning alongside ongoing support. When the client faced a short-notice office move, we worked closely with their team and other stakeholders to facilitate the relocation without disruption. Our collaborative approach allowed us to meet tight deadlines while delivering the technical expertise they needed.

We are committed to finding innovative solutions to challenges, regularly putting our heads together internally and with third parties to ensure the best outcomes. By staying flexible, proactive, and deeply invested in Nexus Planning's success, we have built a strong and trusted partnership that continues to deliver value.

The Outcome

Rather than replicating their previous setup, we worked with Nexus Planning to build a fully cloud-based IT environment from the ground up—aligned to their goals and scalable for future growth.

The onboarding project was a success—providing a smooth transition and establishing a modern, secure IT foundation. When faced with a short-notice office move, we ensured a seamless relocation with minimal disruption.
